IN LOCAL NEWS,

--WHOSE MAULED BODY WAS FOUND ON THE WEST SIDE EARLIER
TODAY, A BLOCK FROM HIS HOME.
FIFTY DOLLARS AND A DRIVER'S LICENSE WERE FOUND IN HIS POCKET-- ROBBERY DOES NOT SEEM TO BE A MOTIVE.

POLICE ARE AT A LOSS TO EXPLAIN
THE WOUNDS, WHICH APPEAR TO HAVE BEEN MADE BY THE CLAWS OF SOME ENORMOUS WILD ANIMAL. AT THIS TIME,
POLICE HAVE NO SUSPECTS IN THE CASE.

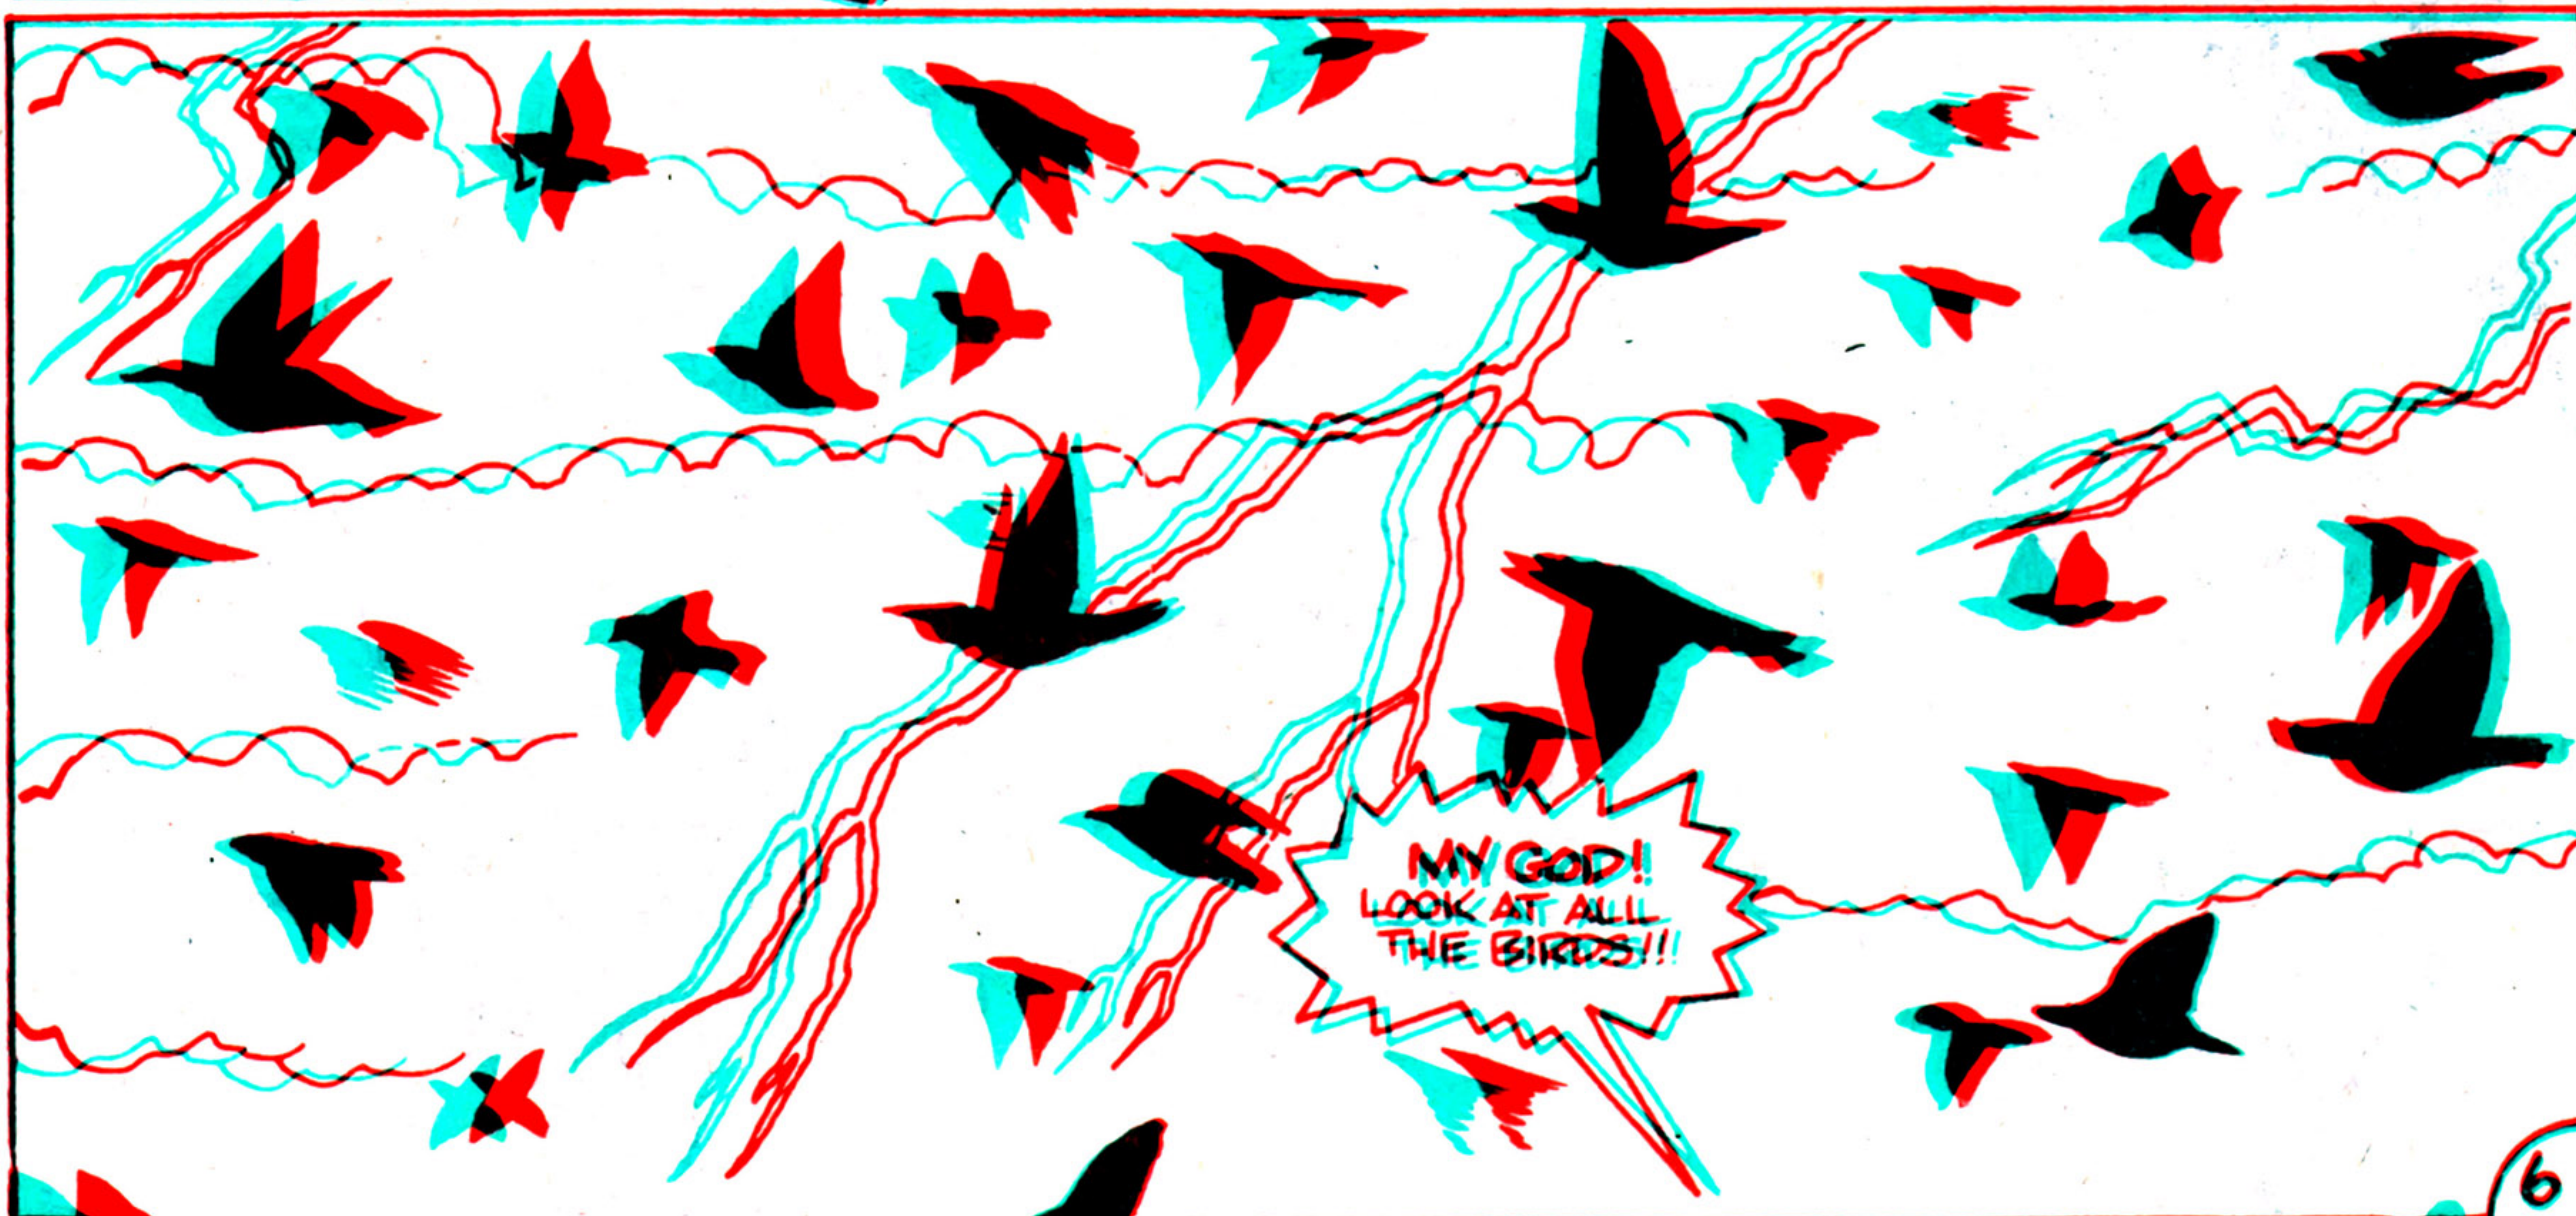

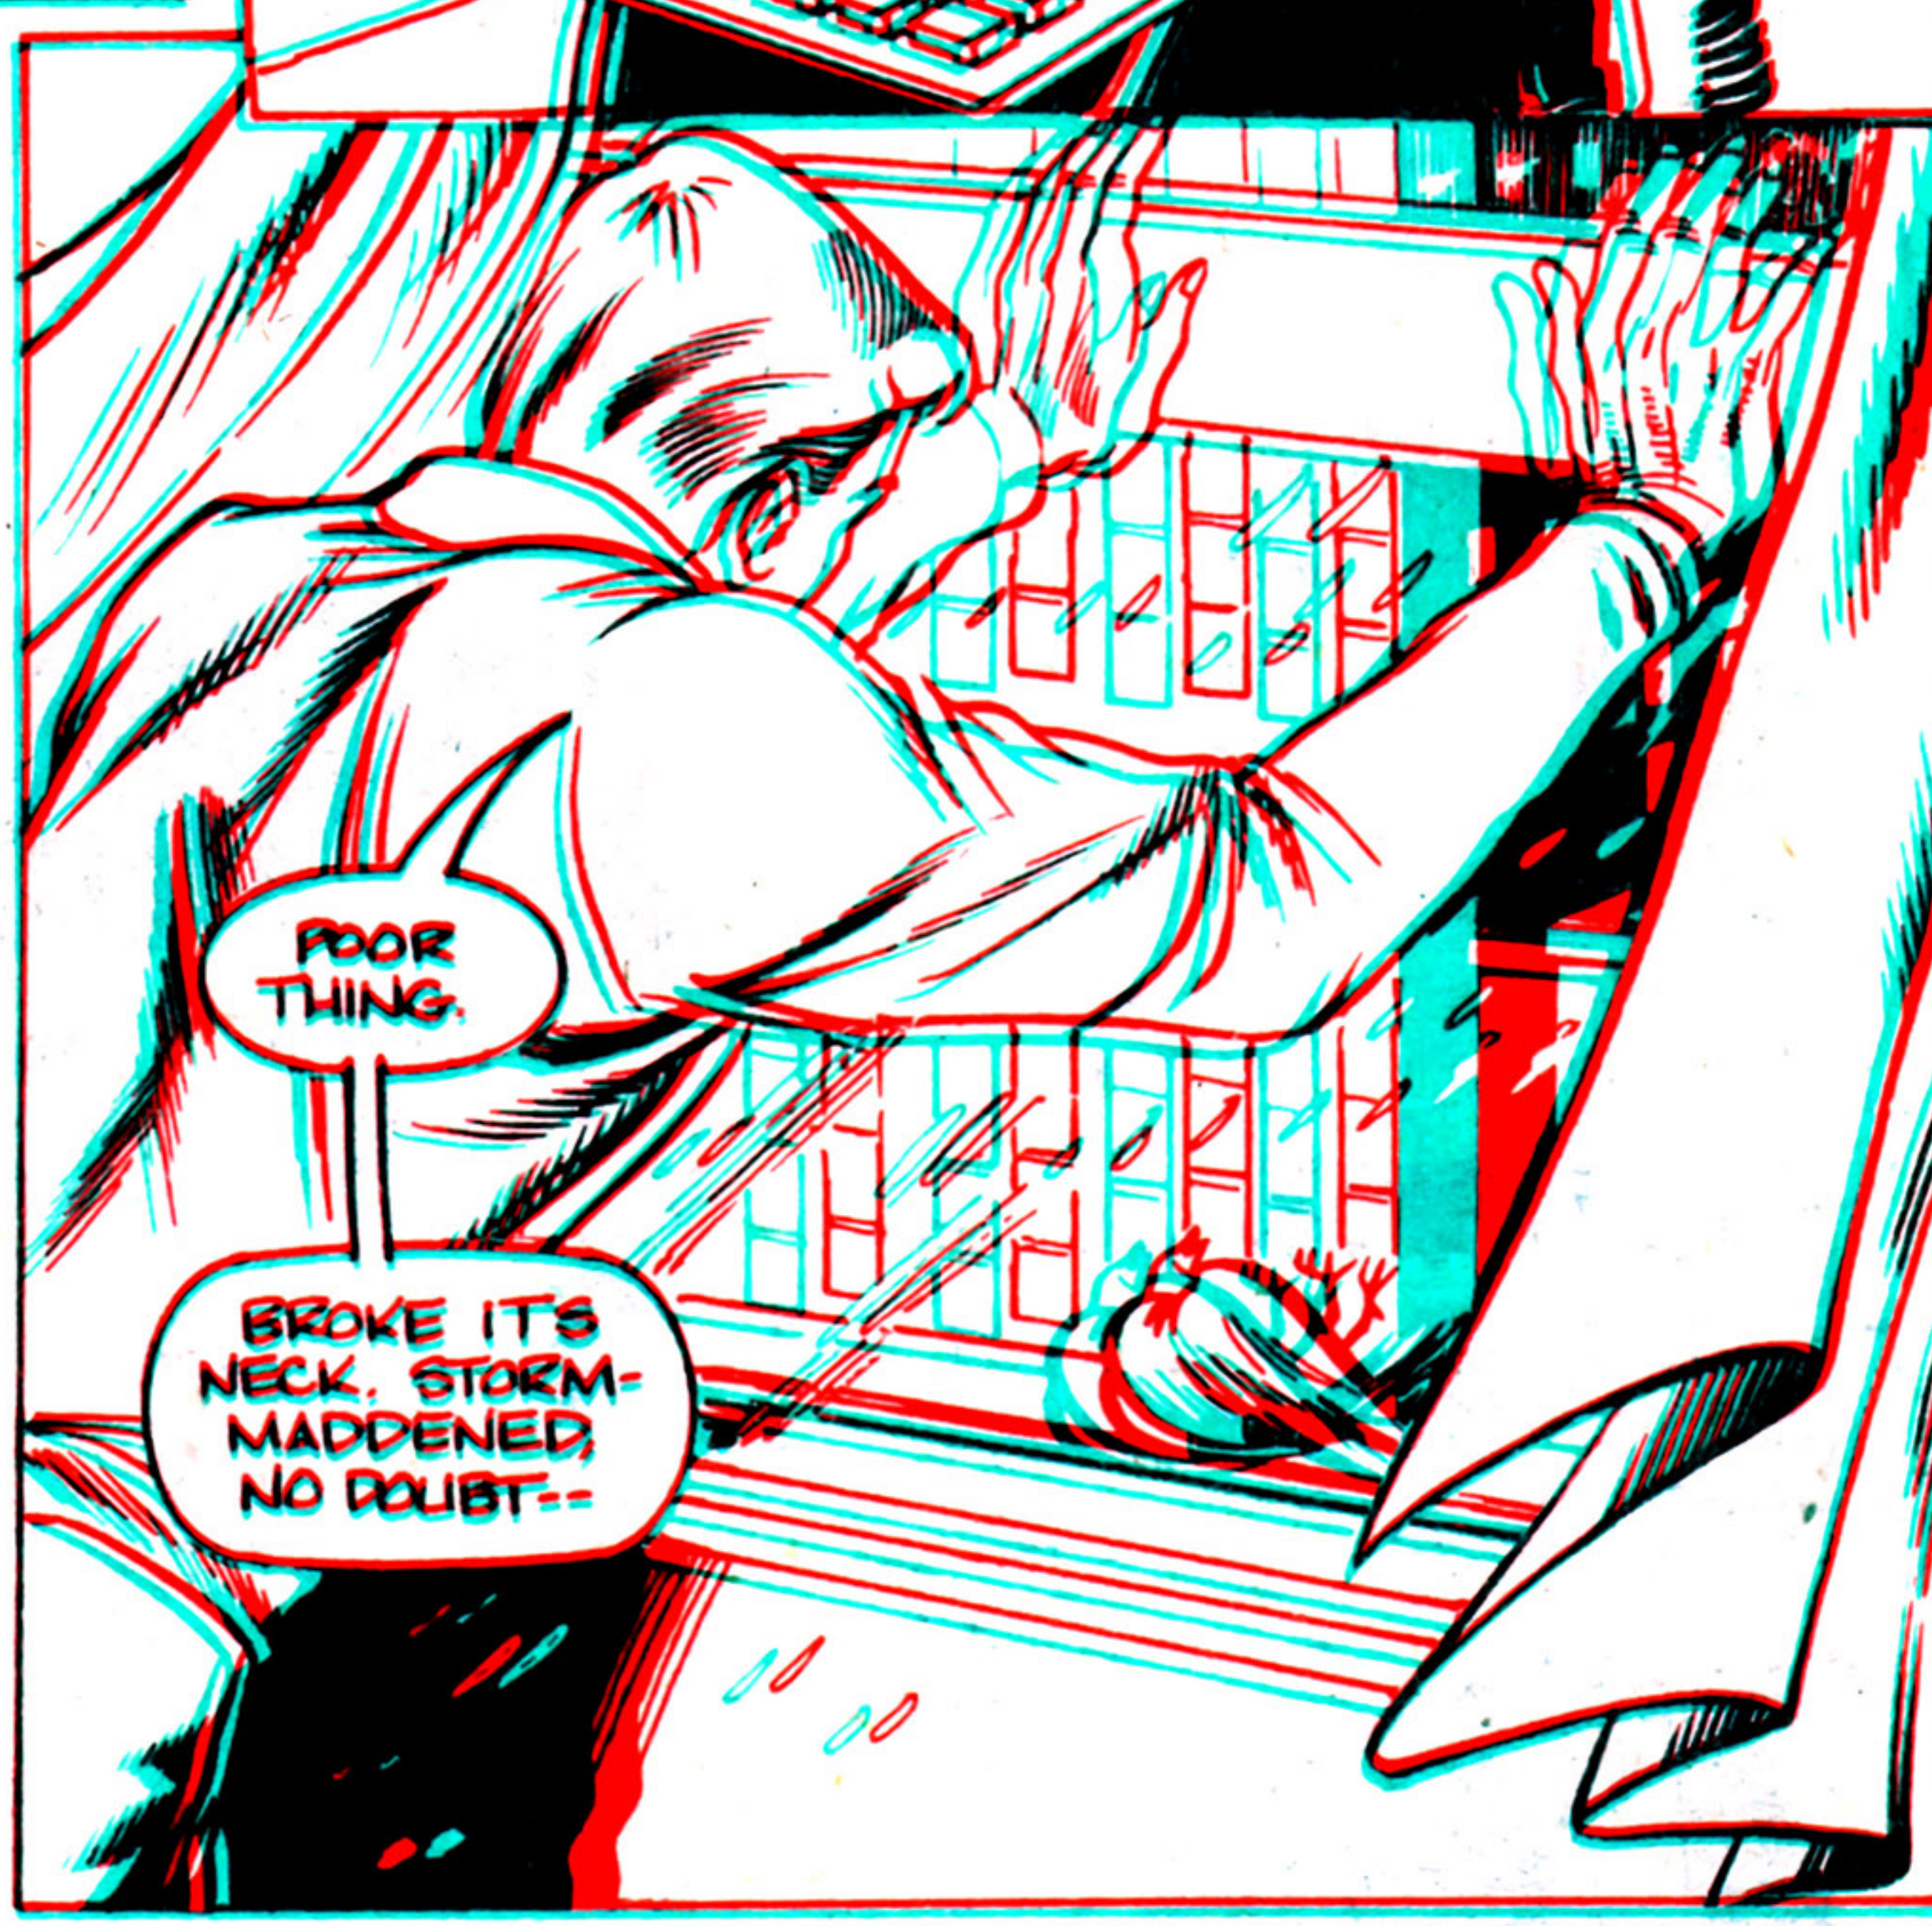

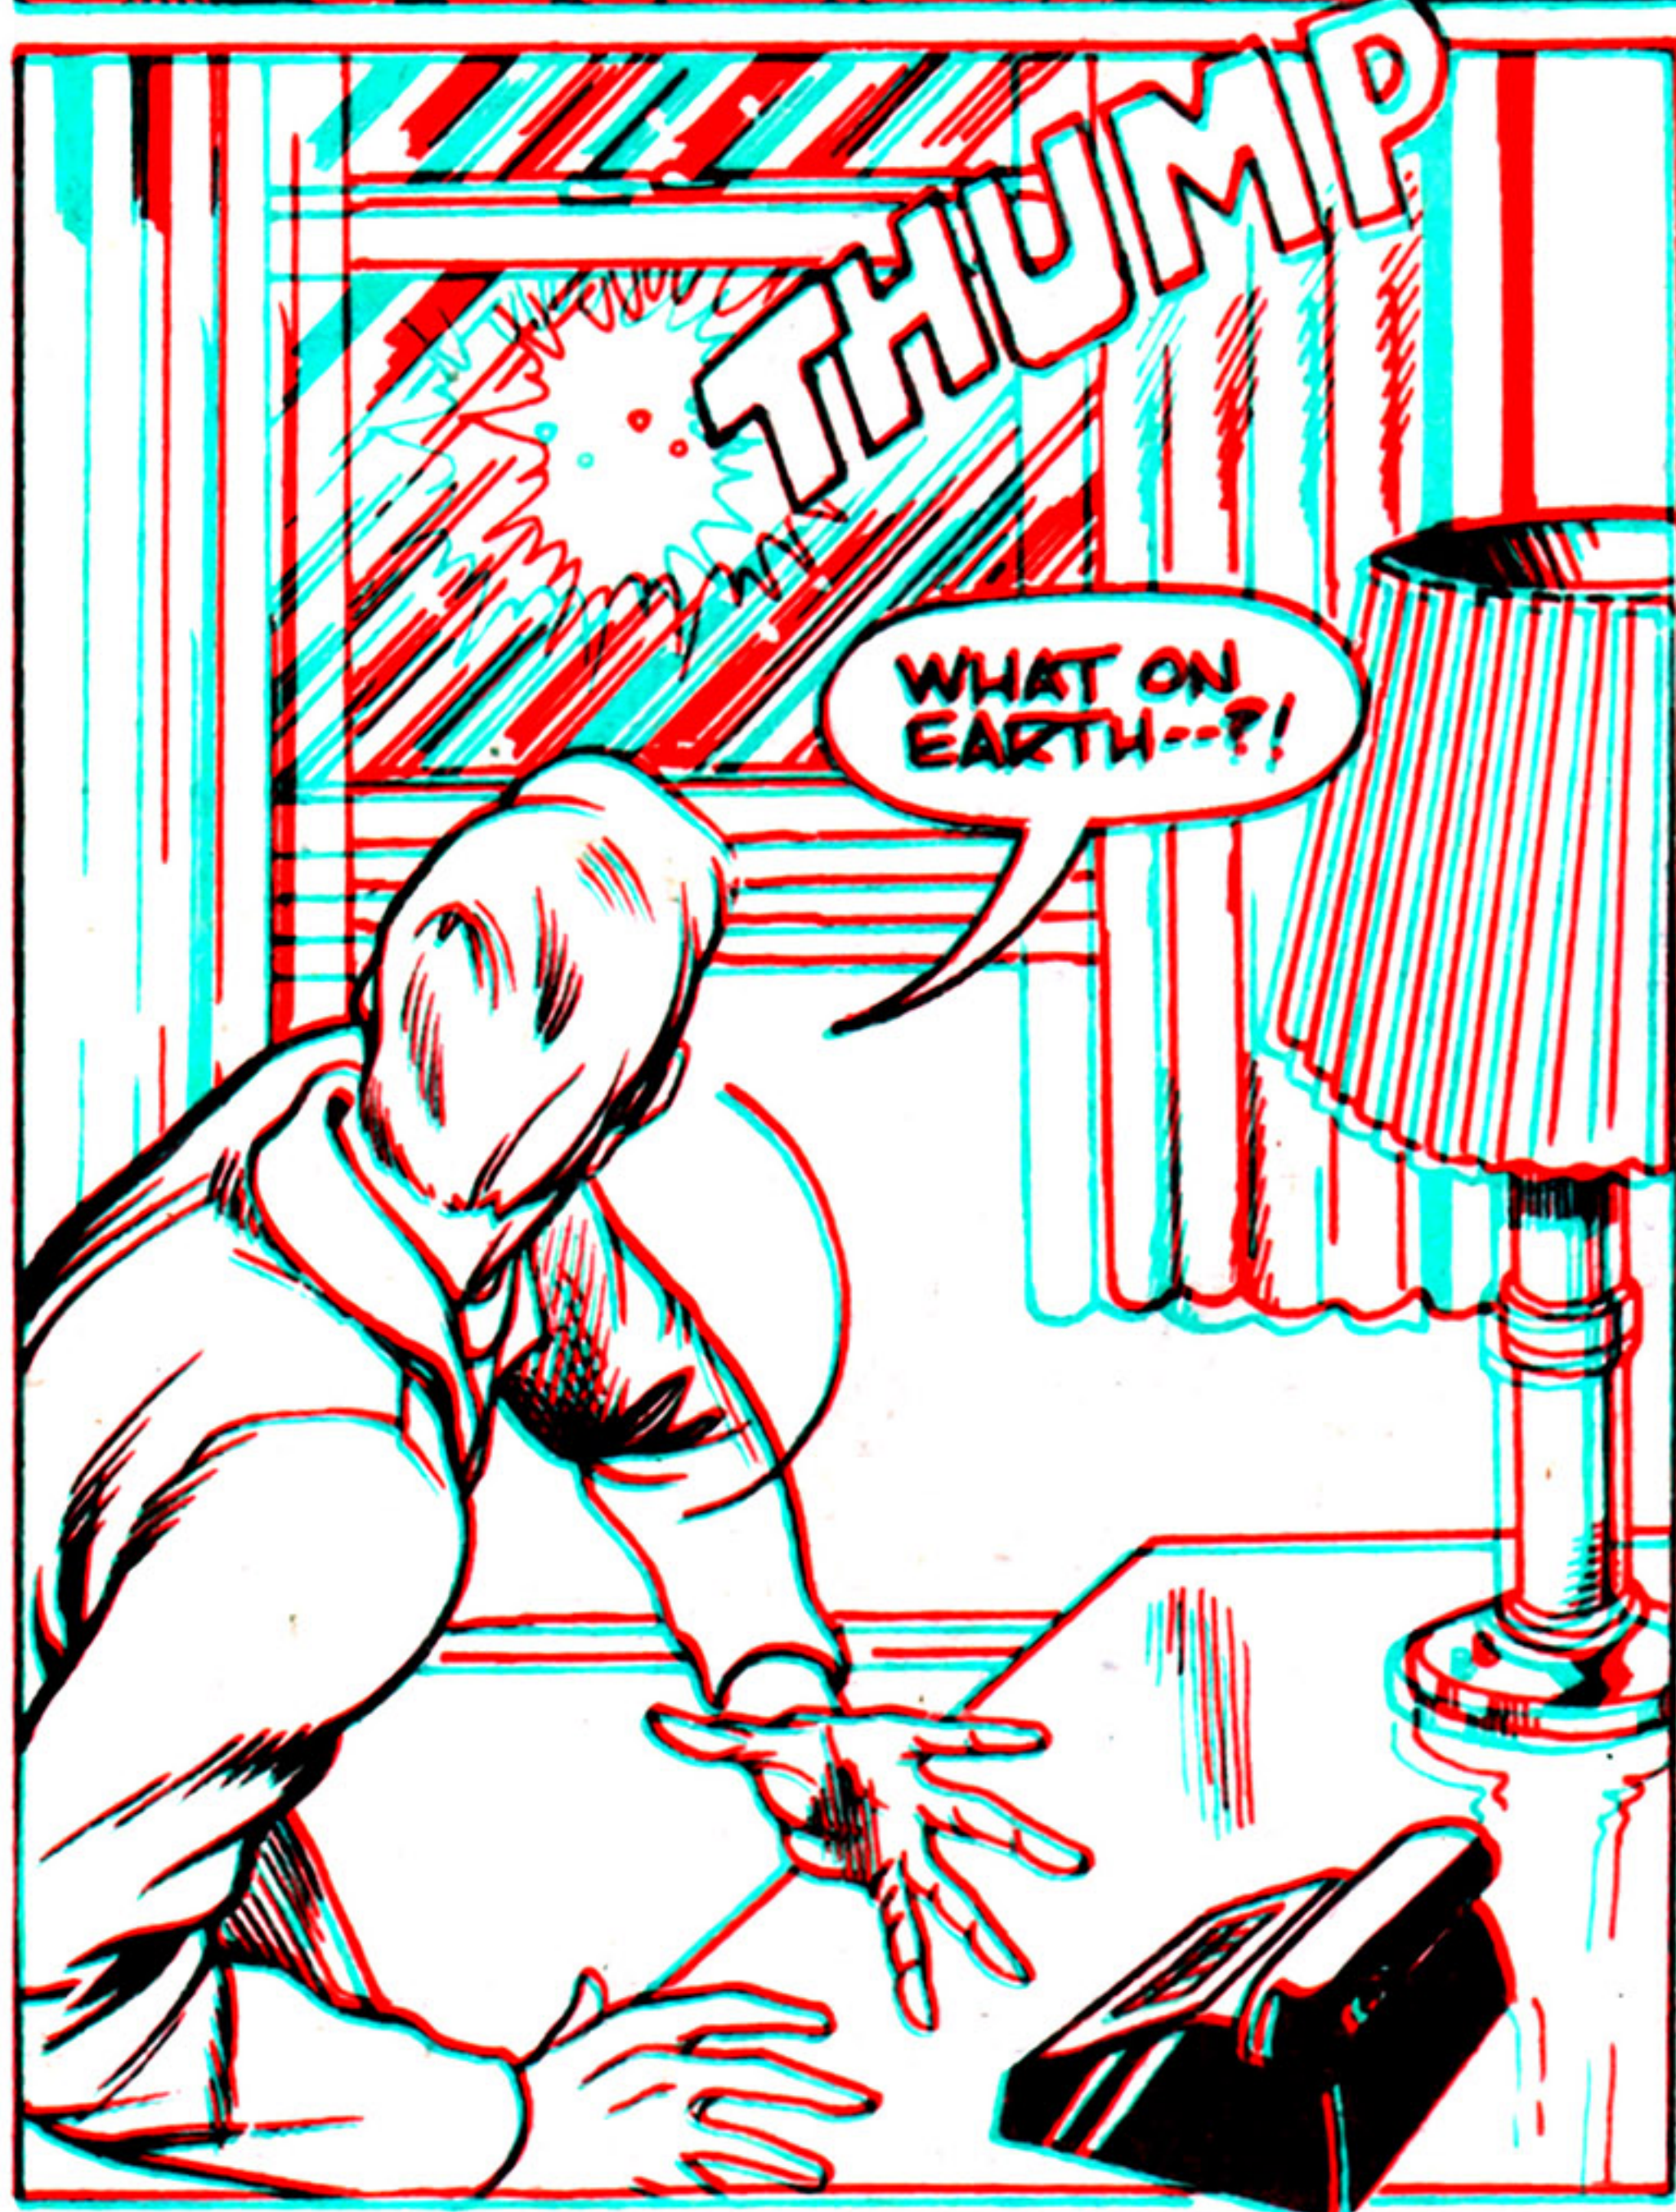

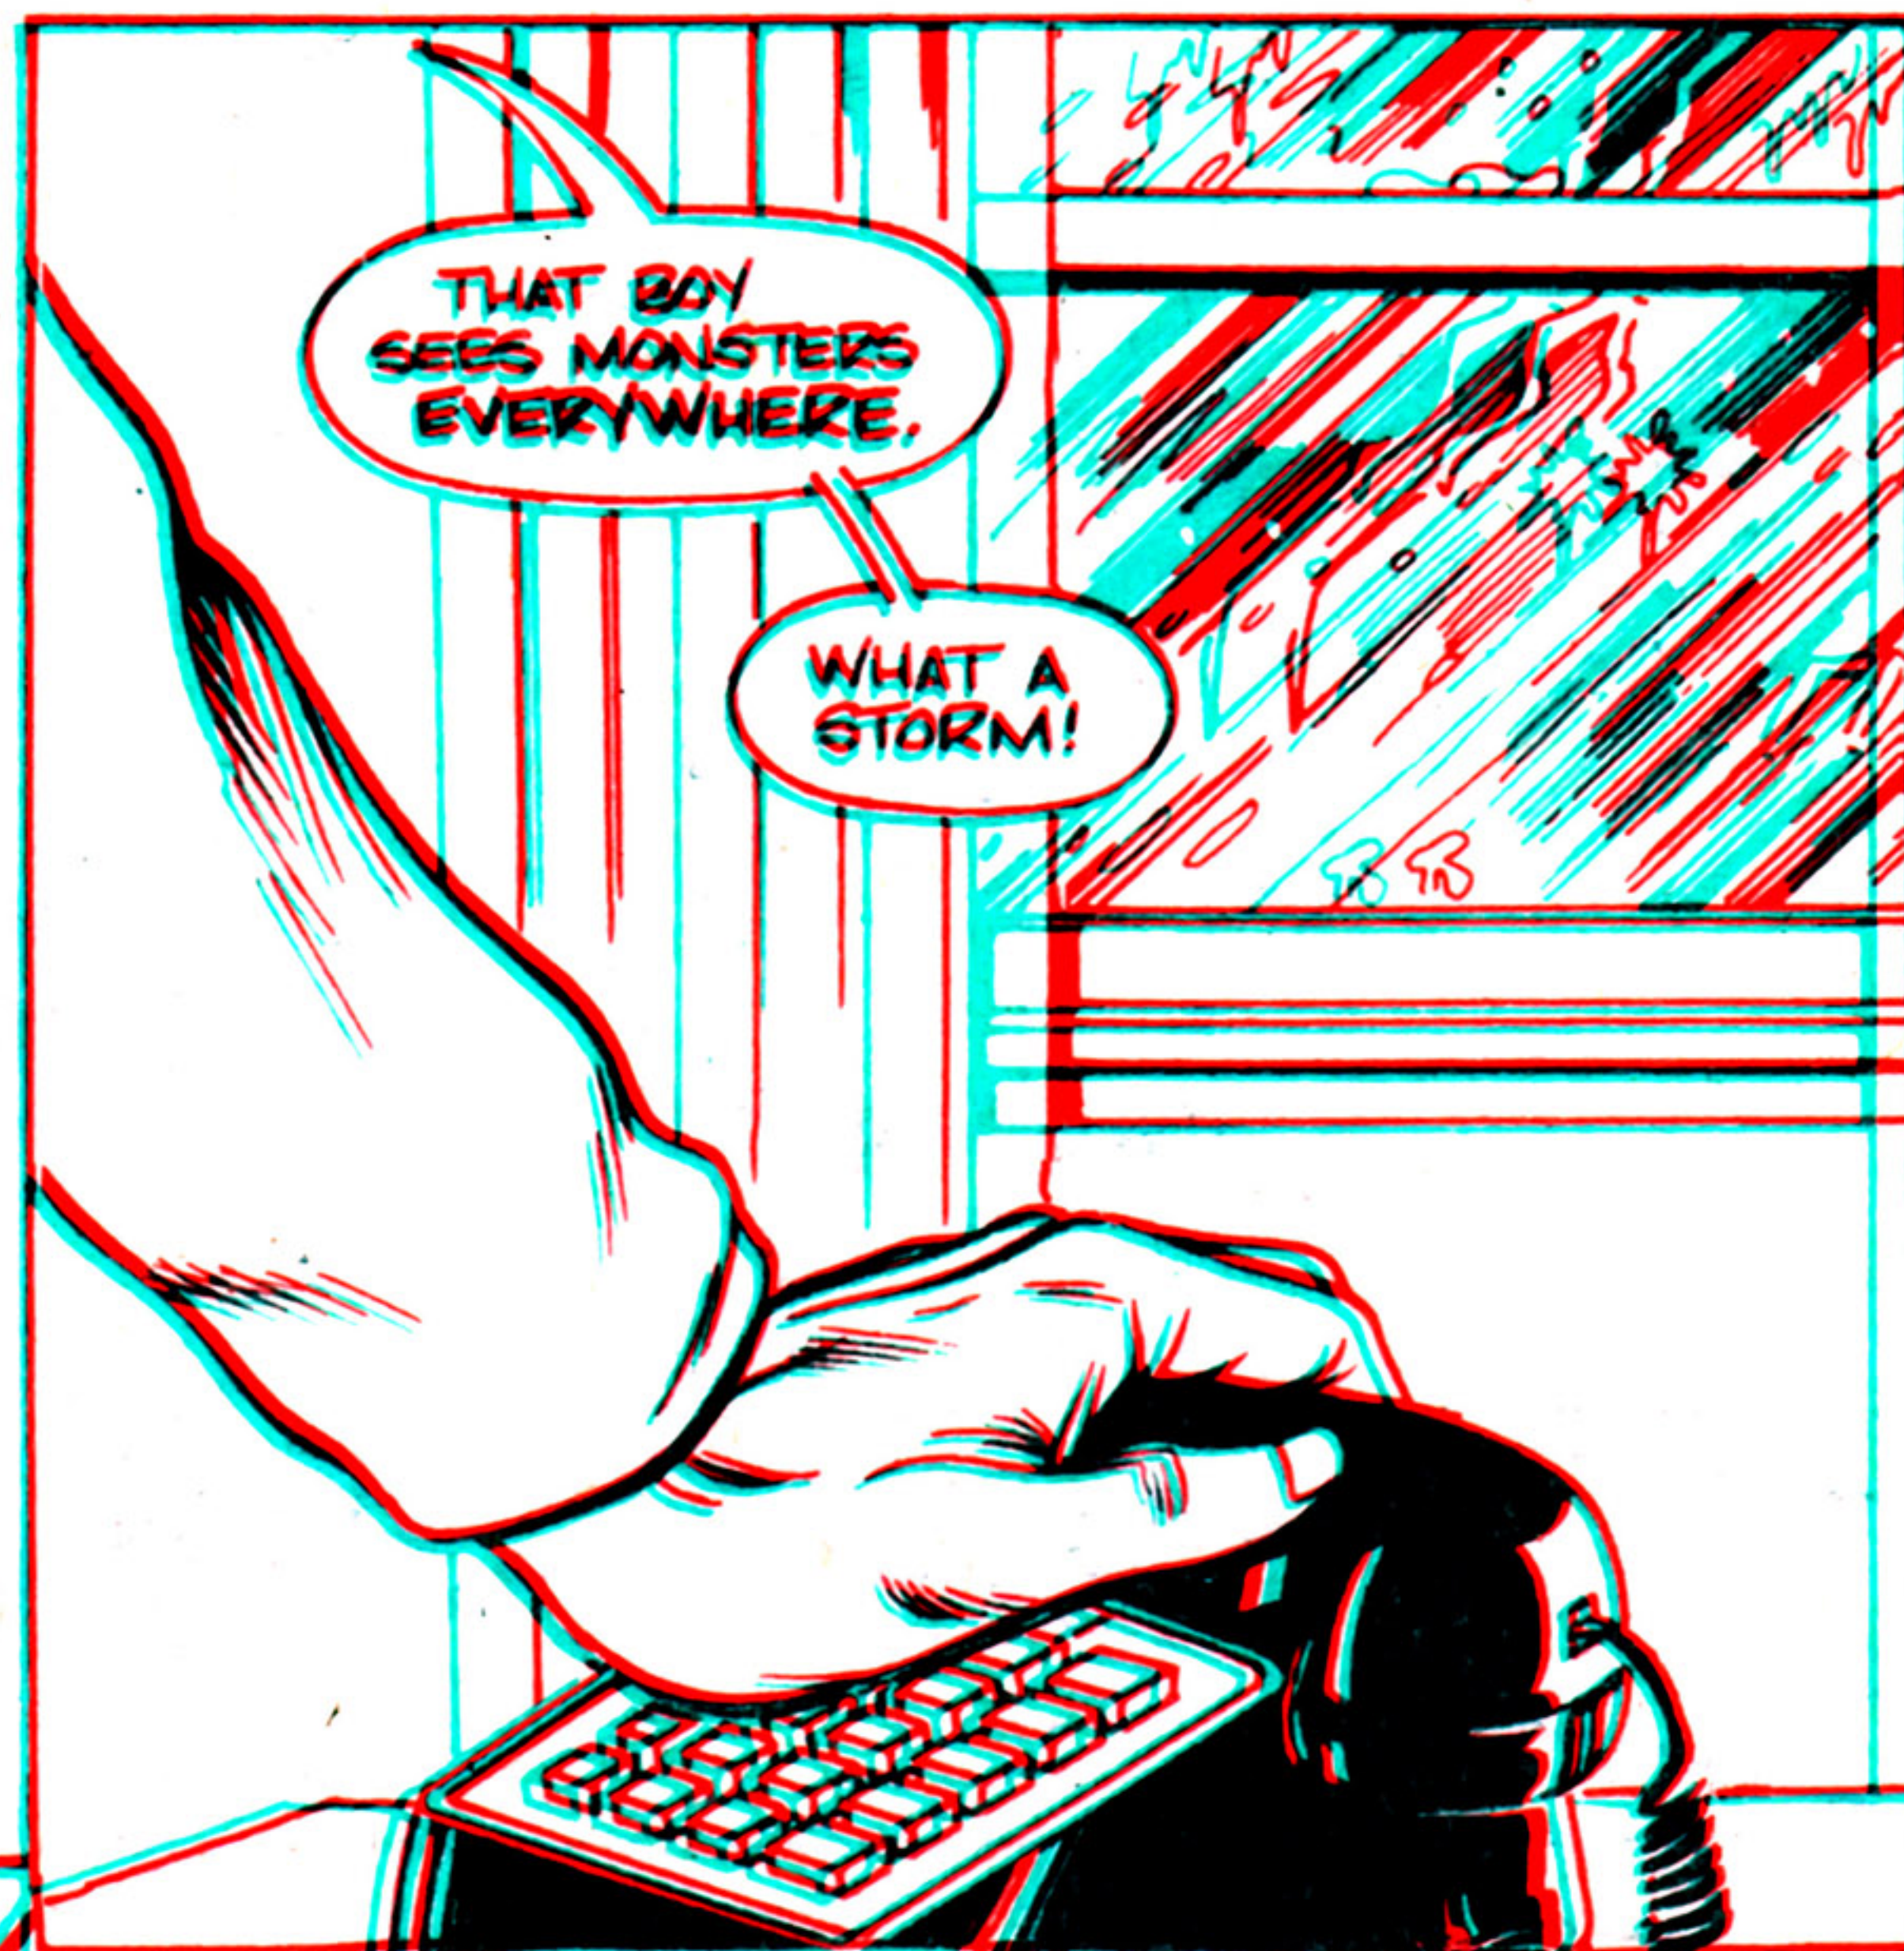

PETER? CHARLEY.
DID YOU SEE THE NEWS?

SOME GUY WAS RIPPED
TO DEATH BY GIANT CLAWS,
THEY SAID... YEAH, CLAWS.
SOUNDS WEIRD TO ME.
I THINK WE SHOULD CHECK IT OUT?

WHY?

DO YOU THINK
SOME MONSTER
DID IT?

DON'T LET YOUR IMAGINATION RUN
AWAY WITH YOU,
CHARLEY. HORRIBLE
AS IT IS, IT'S NOTHING TO DO WITH US.

The background of the entire page is a dynamic comic book illustration. It features Mr. T in the center, wearing his signature gold chain and looking forward with a determined expression. He is surrounded by several large, muscular, metallic-looking figures, some of which appear to be the T-Force team members. The scene is filled with action, with some figures in the background appearing to be in motion or combat. The overall color palette is dominated by dark, metallic tones with highlights of gold and red.

THE BIG TEN ^{with} MR. T

NOW: Did you read comics as a kid?

T: No.

NOW: How do you see your comic helping kids?

T: My comic book MR. T AND THE T-FORCE will give kids as well as adults hope. It will inspire them and motivate them because Mr. T is real.

NOW: What's your favorite part of MR. T AND THE T-FORCE?

T: My favorite part is Mr. T fighting off a gang of thugs one moment and then the next he's holding a crack baby. He really is tough and tender.

NOW: How much alike are the real you and the comic you?

T: We are the same!

NOW: What direction would you like to see your comic take?

T: Always positive, morally good, and heart-warming stories; to the top, number-one comic book in the land.

NOW: Five years ago, did you think you'd ever star in a comic book that bears your name?

T: No! Not in my wildest dreams.

NOW: How do your personal experiences influence the book's direction?

T: My personal experience is the glue that holds the stories together.

NOW: What is the most rewarding part of this project?

T: First it was a dream and now it is a reality. The book itself is the most rewarding part of the project.

NOW: What words of encouragement would you give to kids trying to get out of the urban trap?

T: Each urban trap is different, each child is different, each set of values is different. For the ones who sincerely want to get out like I have, I'll give you my formula: Have a plan, a goal. Stay away from negative people. Most importantly, pray to God.

NOW: What was your strongest motivation for avoiding drugs and gangs?

T: I'm going to tell you something and please believe me when you read this. You may have heard my rap that when I was in the ghetto, drugs were over me, under me, around me, but drugs were never in me. With all the drugs in my neighborhood and all the crime, as strange as it may seem, my mother and father never talked about drugs in my house. They never gave us a lecture—they didn't have to. My father didn't do drugs and didn't drink; my mother didn't do drugs and didn't drink. There was never any drugs or liquor in the house. They led by example.
